

Rip Stauffer

Rip Stauffer is a Senior Consultant with Management, Science and Innovation, and Principal at Woodside Quality Solutions. He is an ASQ-Certified Six Sigma Master Black Belt, Six Sigma Black Belt, Quality Engineer, and Manager of Quality and Organizational Excellence. Rip teaches statistics and business courses for Walden University, and has served on TAG 176 and TAG 69, the Quality and Statistical Methods Technical Advisory Groups for the American National Standards Institute (NIST). He has helped many organizations in diverse industries and government achieve higher levels of performance, and documented hundreds of millions of dollars in savings. An exceptional speaker offering entertaining and unique insights into all aspects of Quality, Rip is a frequent conference presenter.